

SteriPack Group supports growth with new Cloud financial system

Following our successful implementation of Oracle Cloud EPM Consolidation and Close, working with the Brovanture team, we have achieved many benefits within our financial close and reporting processes. Very significant is the additional time and resources that have been freed up enabling Finance to deliver more value-added services across our entire business.

SteriPack Group together with Brovanture implement Oracle Cloud EPM Consolidation and Close

The SteriPack Group provides contract manufacturing services for medical devices under the ISO 13485 system and contract packing services for the pharmaceutical industry under cGMP. Growing rapidly from its inception 20+ years ago and after a number of acquisitions across multiple markets, SteriPack management realised that its processes and systems needed to be updated to meet the needs of the enlarged and growing organisation.

The decision was made to focus on the acquisition and implementation of a new financial consolidation and reporting system. The object was to enable the standardisation and automation of the collection and reporting of group consolidated financial information.

challenges

- Complex consolidation processes were difficult and very time consuming in Microsoft Excel
- With overseas acquisitions, FX requirements had become more complex and more difficult to handle in Microsoft Excel
- The time taken to process information at month end gave limited time to review and analyse the results
- The structure and content of board reporting was not detailed enough for a larger and still growing organisation

results

- Integration of multiple source systems enabled transfer of month end information at the 'click of a button'
- Time and effort to handle intercompany transactions has been dramatically reduced
- FX processing and forecast processing times and accuracy have been significantly improved
- Closing time v analysis time went from 70/30 to 30/70 giving more opportunity to fully understand the numbers and take timely action
- Removing spreadsheets and manual intervention in the close process delivered more consistency and accuracy in reporting
- The overall consolidation and close timescale has been reduced by 43%
- Reports produced are more detailed and user friendly
- Auditors notice significant improvement in the accuracy, visibility and efficiency of the audit process since the implementation of the new solution

execution

On approval of Brovanture's project proposal by the board, the SteriPack and Brovanture teams began work to implement this solution to meet the challenges SteriPack were experiencing. In just 6 months the new solution was working in parallel with the final switch over 3 months later.

With the consolidation, close and reporting now bedded in SteriPack has continued to increase the detail and improve the reporting it produces. This includes working with Brovanture to develop and implement a new board reporting pack which is now made available on a monthly basis.

Looking to the future SteriPack is already considering implementing a planning and forecasting system to replace Microsoft Excel and to introduce ESG reporting as part of this and their financial close. Alongside this they are looking at working on a common Chart of Accounts across the group with the aim of developing more detailed reporting and further comparison reporting across their subsidiaries.

I had not worked with Brovanture before but found them very easy to work with. I felt like they were part of my team and we really benefitted from their extensive experience and guidance. They considered our ideas carefully and often offered and explained alternatives where they felt we could achieve better outcomes. Throughout the project they were always on hand to help when we needed them.
